#FAB FOOD DRIVE

BOSTON, MA – For the month of December, MONA Environmental LLC has transitioned focus from food scraps to meals, helping feed families who need a little extra cheer this year, through their FAB (fill-a-bag) food drive.

Leveraging their existing infrastructure, MONA is collecting food from donors' doorsteps and delivering it to local pantries, for free. No subscriptions, or strings attached. Donors simply fill-a-bag of food and submit a form online, then MONA will take care of the rest, contact free.

Last week MONA collected food from homes across Greater Boston and delivered it to the Pettengill House Food Pantry in Salisbury, MA. "There has been a solid response so far, but we can do better," said Ted Lague, President of MONA Environmental LLC. "I'm convinced if more people knew about the food drive and how simple we've made it, we could really make a big impact in fighting hunger this holiday season."

MONA's FAB food drive will continue through December in locations across Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont. For more information about the FAB food drive, and how to sign up, visit MONA's website at: www.monaenvironmental.com

MONA Environmental LLC, a sustainability startup, innovates solutions to inspire the preservation, conservation and renewal of Earth's natural resources. MONA's flagship venture provides a convenient, affordable and scalable solution to divert otherwise wasted food to facilities that feed the hungry and recycle the waste into products that sequester greenhouse gasses and create renewable energy to benefit our planet.
